Dear Kathy:

I have been walking on air since you stunned me on Friday by giving me CPR's James F. Henry Award. I can't tell you how surprised I was and how honored I feel to be recognized by CPR in this manner and join the short list of others who have received the award.

By combination of many coincidences and parallel movements in time, my professional career, Jim's creative and organizational genius and CPR blossomed in wonderful ways that have enriched my life beyond measure and, I hope, made some positive contribution to the part of the world with which we relate. CPR has always been very special to me. I have enjoyed every moment of every conference, meeting, and dinner at CPR because of the uniformly high quality of people and ideas which it brings together. To receive this recognition from CPR means so much to me. I was reluctant to part with the award citation to let you ship it because I just wanted to keep it near me and gaze at it but I will put it in a place of honor in our offices at Resolutions where I can see it every day and continue to bask in the glow that it gave me.

Please express my gratitude to everyone at CPR and let them know how much I appreciate this honor. Also, of course, you have hooked me for life; please let me know how I can contribute more in the future. You are doing great work. Keep it up.

Very truly yours,

Eric D. Green
