Although the Supreme Court recently upheld the use of mandatory arbitration clauses with class action waivers, #MeToo has spurred a public backlash and many new laws take aim at such clauses. Leading in-house counsel, corporate defense attorneys, counsel from the plaintiffs' bar and noted academics will discuss anticipated legislative responses to the decision, the pros and cons of mandatory arbitration for employment disputes, including opt-in and opt-out clauses, considerations when carving particular claims out of employment programs, as Microsoft, Uber and Lyft have done, and what makes a successful program in light of new, competing priorities.
