New York -- The International Institute for Conflict Prevention and Resolution (CPR), a global non-profit organization that advances dispute prevention and resolution practices and provides high quality solutions, and TerraLex, a major award winning network of quality, independent law firms, announced a strategic, cross-promotional partnership.

Under the terms of the partnership, CPR will be TerraLex's strategic partner and recommended dispute resolution provider and will endorse and recommend to its 150+ law firms, CPR's award-winning arbitration and mediation rules and suite of dispute resolution services.

TerraLex members will have access to CPR's panel of Distinguished Neutrals as well as to numerous events and publications and discounts on CPR offerings.

"TerraLex's mission is to help member firms serve their clients' legal needs and business interests through a worldwide network of quality, independent law firms," said TerraLex Chair, Tim Brown of RPC in London. "After carefully assessing the ADR landscape, we found a service provider that met our high professional standards in CPR. We are looking forward to a productive relationship that benefits both of our membership bases."

"We at CPR are honored to have been selected as the preferred ADR services partner of such an impressive network of independent global law firms," said Noah J. Hanft, President & CEO of CPR. "We are excited by the opportunity to collaborate on events, and to provide top-tier and innovative dispute resolution services, thought leadership, tools and resources to this even broader base."

About CPR

Established in 1977, CPR is an independent nonprofit organization that helps global businesses prevent and resolve commercial disputes effectively and efficiently.

- CPR Dispute Resolution is an ADR provider offering quality, efficiency and integrity via innovative and practical arbitration rules, mediation and other dispute resolution services and procedures—as well as arbitrators, mediators and other neutrals, worldwide.
- The CPR Institute, the world’s leading ADR think tank, positions CPR uniquely as a thought leader, driving a global dispute resolution culture and utilizing its powerful committee structure to develop cutting edge tools, training and resources. These efforts are powered by the collective innovation of CPR’s membership—comprising top corporations and law firms, academic and public institutions, and leading mediators and arbitrators around the world.

Each element of this unique organization informs and enriches the whole, for the benefit of our members and users.
