One of CPR’s greatest strengths is the work produced by its members. CPR’s Advisory Council spearheads CPR's innovation, acting as an incubator and sounding board for CPR projects. CPR’s industry-specific committees analyze dispute resolution challenges, recommend global best practices and publish materials on issues at the forefront of legal debate. The balanced perspectives of these committees provide a unique platform for analyzing the latest developments, both legal and practical, in all manner of dispute resolution. Committees meet regularly to analyze trends and develop projects relevant to their practice areas.

ENERGY, OIL & GAS

The Committee on Energy, Oil & Gas was formed to study challenges in these related industries. CPR regularly convenes this committee of in-house counsel, attorneys, and leading ADR practitioners to analyze, promote, and disseminate information on issues that are critically important to business practices in the field. It has assembled a blue-ribbon international panel of energy neutrals in sub-specialties ranging from alternative energy sources to nuclear specialties. The Committee works to put on periodic programs of interest to those in the energy arena. Prior programs have explored the use of DRBs in energy plant construction, ethics in arbitration and planned early dispute resolution. The Energy Committee has also continued to review the applications of several candidates for CPR’s Panels of Neutrals.
