

Bryan Fok is a Vice President in the Asia Litigation and Regulatory Enforcement team at Morgan Stanley. Before joining Morgan Stanley, he practised international arbitration and litigation at Herbert Smith Freehills and Schellenberg Wittmer. Bryan has extensive international work experience having practised in Beijing, Geneva, Hong Kong and London. He has particular experience in advising on complex contentious matters in the finance and private equity sectors as well as disputes-related aspects of transactional work. In 2020, Bryan was named a Rising Star in Commercial Arbitration by the Euromoney's Expert Guides. From 2017 to 2019, he was the Regional Representative for North Asia of the Young Arbitrators Forum of International Chamber of Commerce.

Bryan was educated at University College London and the University of Cambridge. He is admitted as a Solicitor in Hong Kong and called to the Bar of England and Wales.