

Kyle Thomason is a Senior Corporate Counsel at Pfizer Inc. in New York City and is part of Pfizer's litigation group. He is responsible for a diverse portfolio of litigation matters. Prior to joining Pfizer, Kyle spent more than nine years litigating a wide variety of high-stakes disputes at Williams & Connolly LLP. Kyle received his undergraduate degree with Highest Honors from the Georgia Institute of Technology and his J.D., summa cum laude, from Duke University School of Law. After graduating from law school, Kyle clerked for the Honorable Robert N. Chatigny in the United States District Court for the District of Connecticut.

Kyle also is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Mock Trial Association, the governing body for collegiate mock trial, in which approximately 400 colleges and universities compete.